Foreword

For many of us, high school is a giant leap in education, maturity, and views of life. However, our childhood is still a vivid past, full of games, friends, and memories of the enjoyment of such things as nursery rhymes. These rhymes were a big part of our development; they helped us to expand our horizons, and allowed our imaginations to wander. For these reasons, this year, we've chosen a theme which has never been used before: Nursery Rhymes. The idea of rhymes goes beyond the basic childish interpretations that we formed; it is a reminder of our eventful past as well as a symbol of our constant maturity. For it was the deeper meanings contained in them, that influenced a great many of us to develop respectable morals and principles. They taught us about life, love, and about never-ending friendships. We hope that with this theme the Legend will be a special memory for each one of us for it represents a guide in our pilgrimage from childhood to maturity.

Dedication

The 1985 Legend is dedicated to a person who plays an indispensable role in the education of students at ECVHS. As head and founder of the bilingual department which is officially recognized as one of California's finest, she takes in hundreds of new students each year from many countries with as many as 27 different languages spoken. Speaking only English and Spanish herself, her warmth, vitality and enthusiasm surpasses the language barrier and allows her to communicate with her students and teach them the language as well as American ways. Doing her utmost to expand relations and understanding among our varied cultures, she pioneered Multi-Cultural week and made it a tradition here at ECVHS. In 1982 she was presented with the County Teacher of the Year Award for her many accomplishments and exceptional teaching skills. We proudly dedicate our 1985 Legend to Miss Margie Chaimson.

Marc Drew, President

This year's Student Government consisted of 26 members who worked hard at keeping El Cajon students informed about their school. ASB made signs, had secret pals, and worked hard at getting students involved in their school. ASB was led by President Marc Drew and his Vice Presidents Page Small, and Erika Grunstad and was advised by Mr. Baker.

Our Spirit Is

Due to a shortened week and 3 minimum days, our Spirit Week lunchtime activities were curtailed this year, but that didn't stop the spirit of our E.C.V.H.S. students. The Spirit Week reached its high point with our annual Braves Uprising Assembly, which featured cheerleaders, drill, poppers, and our varsity football team.

Homecoming at ECVHS is always a festive and memorable occasion. This year it was filled with anticipation, excitement, and surprises for us all!

The day began with an enthusiastic Alumni Assembly and progressed to the eagerly-awaited crowning of the King Kevin Conn and the Queen Aimee Weber. The court included Princesses Quy Nguyen, Deirdre Keller, Teresa Ancona, Kim Allen, and Princes Paul Mirmingos and John Davis.

The float that carried out the theme Tropical Paradise, consisted of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors, ASB, cheerleaders and returning Alumni.

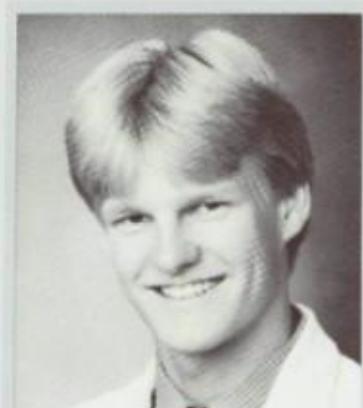

Losing the football game to Grossmont hurt . . . but memories of Homecoming '84 will always linger on.

Bilingual Department Shines

In 1976, E.C.V.H.S. first developed a program that has made our school unique in the District. Each year, over 200 students speaking different languages enter our Bilingual Department and learn the English language and American culture. Under the direction of Chairman Margie Chaimson and Area Leader Gus Valdez, all teachers in the department, expert aides, and peer tutors strive toward the goal of making foreign students proficient in English and capable of taking regular classes in the school. We are proud of our Bilingual Department, and the many cultural experiences that it has brought to E.C.V.H.S.

Halloween

Peter, Peter Pumpkin Eater

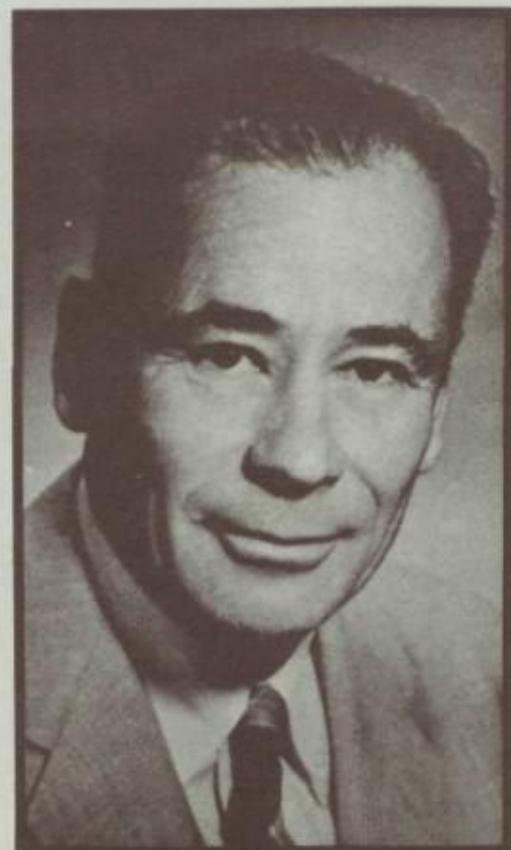

Over the past four years, Halloween has become a much-celebrated holiday here at E.C.V.H.S. Every October 31st the campus is overrun by ghosts, goblins, vampires, and witches along with many other different and imaginative costumes worn by students and teachers alike. This year, there was a new twist in the activities, in the form of a costume contest. Since only a few students participated there were only two winners. The winners were Jace Holley, dressed as a bag lady, and Jon Martin, dressed as the Big Bad Wolf.

Cinderella Ball Creates Snowball Magic

The 1984 Snowball was true to its theme, a modern "Cinderella Ball", minus only the glass slipper and fairy godmother. Dancing to music provided by Stratus, while watching videos on a wide-screen TV of ECVHS's lunchtime activities, created an exciting and fun evening for everyone present. The magical moment arrived with the crowning of Queen Lori Gerschoffer and King Keith Sippy. Completing the court were Junior Princess Dolores Rodrigues and Sophomore Princess Erika Grunstad. Junior and Sophomore Prince Charmings were Page Small and Raleigh Evans, respectively. The night ended with a feeling of enchantment and fulfillment and everyone lived happily ever after.

Windbreakers

"Windbreakers are students, faculty, staff members, and family members who are sharing the experiences of running 10K's. We hope to improve our personal best times in these 6.2 mile runs and enjoy the fun and companionship they provide." Mr. Maize

It's A Small

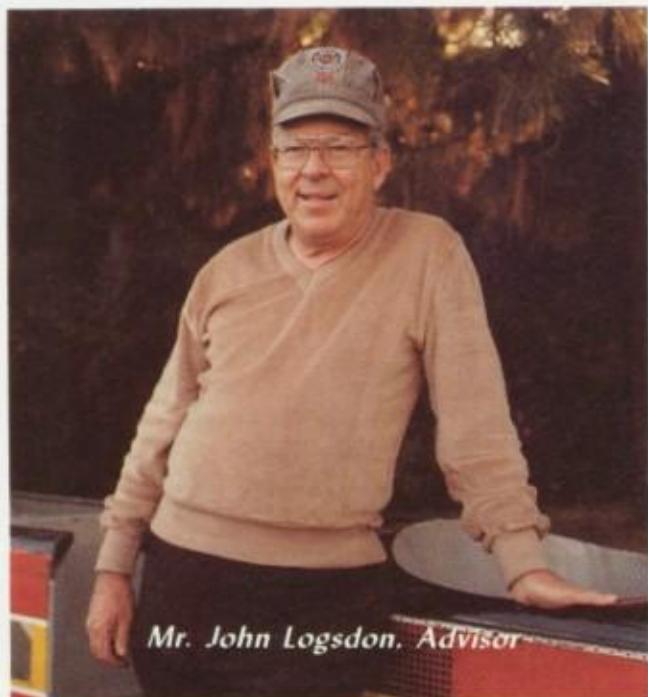

Multicultural week is said to be a great experience for students of El Cajon Valley High, and truly it is. Uniquely, El Cajon Valley is the only school in the Grossmont District that dedicates a week to its many cultures. Each day is devoted to a different culture with Monday being Black Awareness Day, Tuesday Asian Day, Wednesday Middle Eastern Day, Thursday Latino Day, concluding with American Day on Friday. Each day we had the opportunity to sample the various foods of the participating ethnic groups and to see the various displays. The finale of the week was an assembly in which we were entertained by the groups' native dress and dance. As the result of the hard work and determination of Cecelia Castro and the Multicultural Club, Multicultural Week continued its success.

This year's Legend staff may be compared to "The Little Train Who Thought it Could". In September the task appeared impossible, but deadline after deadline "We Thought We Could". Our advisor was the strong engine, clearing the path and getting us over the rough terrain. Each member of the staff had special tasks to perform much as the different cars on a train have special functions, but all arrive at the same time at the destination.

We worked hard to complete our deadlines, and stayed on track, accomplishing the seemingly impossible task of producing a memorabilia of El Cajon's treasures which we hope you will enjoy!

Smoke Signal burned brightly this year with hard-working editors and reporters. Under the direction of advisor Mrs. Lynnea Venieris, the staff was able to produce an interesting newspaper each month, loaded with informative articles of the latest news on campus. Though the students had more time to interview and write their stories than professional reporters do, they did get a good idea of how a newspaper is run and the hectic atmosphere which is always involved in meeting deadlines. The year proved to be a fun and constructive one for those students who are considering careers in journalism and for those who just enjoy a creative class.

"All The Braves Ran Up The Hill And Cheer Came Tumbling After"

The Braves' Varsity Cheer Squad was a change from those of the past. Under the guidance and direction of Advisor Mrs. Emily Barton, and Captain Kimi Baker, the squad, consisting of eight juniors and two seniors, led cheers to motivate the somewhat "forgotten fan". They did a terrific job all year in making run-throughs for the football team, cheering on all the sports and promoting spirit and involvement among the students. Their spirit, pep and enthusiasm helped make it a great year for all involved.

On September 5, 1984, our Braves gave one of their most exciting exhibitions at the Football Carnival. The game was preceded by massed bands from the four competing schools playing a half hour enthusiastic concert, setting the tone for the rest of the evening. The Braves dominated Valhalla with their energetic offense and tenacious defense. The game, which started for the first time in the daylight, featured a 21-yard touchdown run from Donnie Young. This boosted the crowd to enthusiastic cheering that helped the Braves play an excellent game. Though the contest was lost 8-7 in a last moment desperation Valhalla pass, it provided a most inspiring beginning to the '84 season.

"Y-E-L-L - everybody yell - BRAVES!" was the chant that loudly resounded as Denise, Kami, Kim, Lissa, Nina, Renee, Samantha, and Thea helped the crowd show their spirit by cheering on their team. Over the summer many hours of practice were put in to provide E.C.V.H.S. with the best J.V. Squad ever. When school began, that amount of practice time didn't decrease. Under the supervision of their advisor, Mrs. Emily Barton, the squad made signs and run-throughs to be used at both J.V. and Varsity sports. Their winning attitude contributed to a memorable year here at E.C.V.H.S.

Water Polo's success has been attributed to a very young team that mainly consisted of underclassmen. Led by returning varsity players senior, Mike Worthy and underclassmen Mike Valderamma, Page Small and Andy Castonguay, Water Polo gave the crowd exciting moments and good reasons to cheer. Even though the team was very young, the players improved with every game under the guidance of Coach Sanchez and assistant coaches Bob Sheaffer and Lisa Fisher. With so many underclassmen involved, Water Polo can expect much success in the future years.

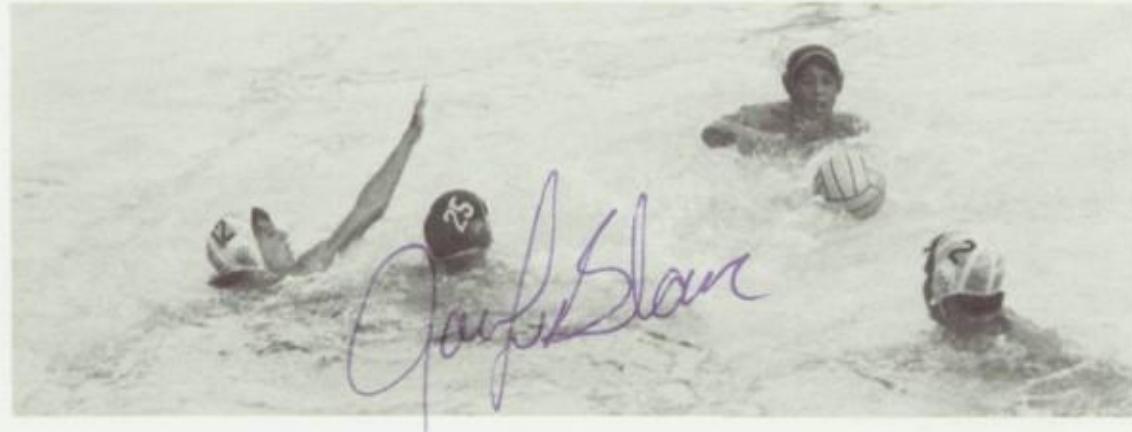

I like you for too long
You've been a good friend.
Even though you've done some pretty dumb things. Have fun, Robert.

See How They Run

Under the Direction of Coach Maize and Coach Martinez, 1984 Cross Country had one of its best years in participation, dedication, and enthusiasm. Having 17 members on the team this year, Cross Country achieved respect throughout the district for their excellent runners. Lori Cosio received recognition as one of the league's quality competitors, and gave ECVHS much to be proud of. Our team ended the season ranked one of the toughest competitors in the Grossmont District.

Fueled A New Fire

Supplied with second year coach Linda Wehking and two outstanding high school transfers, the 1985 tennis looked to burn as bright as the teams of the past. But this new flame did not burn without some past players. These included three strong singles players and an experienced doubles team. With strong dedication and improved skills, this team continued to shine bright throughout the season.

For The Goal

The Braves Soccer teams of 1984-85 greatly improved El Cajon's athletic roster. The girls' team, in its second year, had many inexperienced players, but that did not hinder their dedication, pride, and continual improvement. The boys' team, did very well in the Grossmont League. Their spirit and positive thinking were important qualities which the team possessed. Both teams, with new coaches, who had the players out there working, trying, and learning, strived for much desired goals, both in the net and in team morale.

For Varsity Volleyball, the 1984 season turned out a success in the eyes of the players and their coach, Marilyn Mitchell. Practices started in the summer and continued throughout the season. This spirited team played with great skill and concentration and put up a fight each game until the end. The young team gained much experience which promises much for next season.

"We started off having a real good year and showed steady improvement," said Coach Randy Robinson of the Boys' Varsity Basketball. "We've developed a sense of pride in what we're doing and the results have showed on the court." Boys' Varsity Basketball seems to be improving each year and with their hard work and determination, it's no wonder. With their skill and strength combined, this team achieved the best record since 1975.

El Cajon Girls' Tennis had an enjoyable and productive season. With only a small returning squad in 1984, the Braves played with immense spirit and intensity. Though slightly hampered with lack of turnout, El Cajon girls were able to improve and gain experience which will make this team great in the future.

The JV Football team, under the direction of Head Coach Carl Roper, lacked the experience but still showed their dedication and hard work by trying to accomplish their goals. Players, Dee Watson, Scott Boyd, and Don Labarge, brought enthusiasm and spirit to the team with their constant attitude and effort. They began each game with an enthusiastic attitude to play a good game and ended looking forward to the next game. Even though the JV Football team did not have a winning season, each team member was rewarded with the knowledge that they did their very best.

This year was a building year for the Braves' Field Hockey team due to the inexperience of the players, and the lack of participation from the student body at E.C.V.H.S. Although there was only one team of girls out for the sport this year, those players possessed enthusiasm, and eagerness to learn. The girls kept trying, learned with each game they played, and nothing dampened their spirits. Miss J. Johnston, the Field Hockey coach, speculates that next year will be a more exciting year than ever with the experienced players from this year's team.

El Cajon Valley High School Football, a team dedicated to its sport, coach, and more importantly, to each other.

Combined with head coach Gene Watkins, team leaders Paul Casto and Derek Jenkins, our Braves were able to boost team pride around our campus.

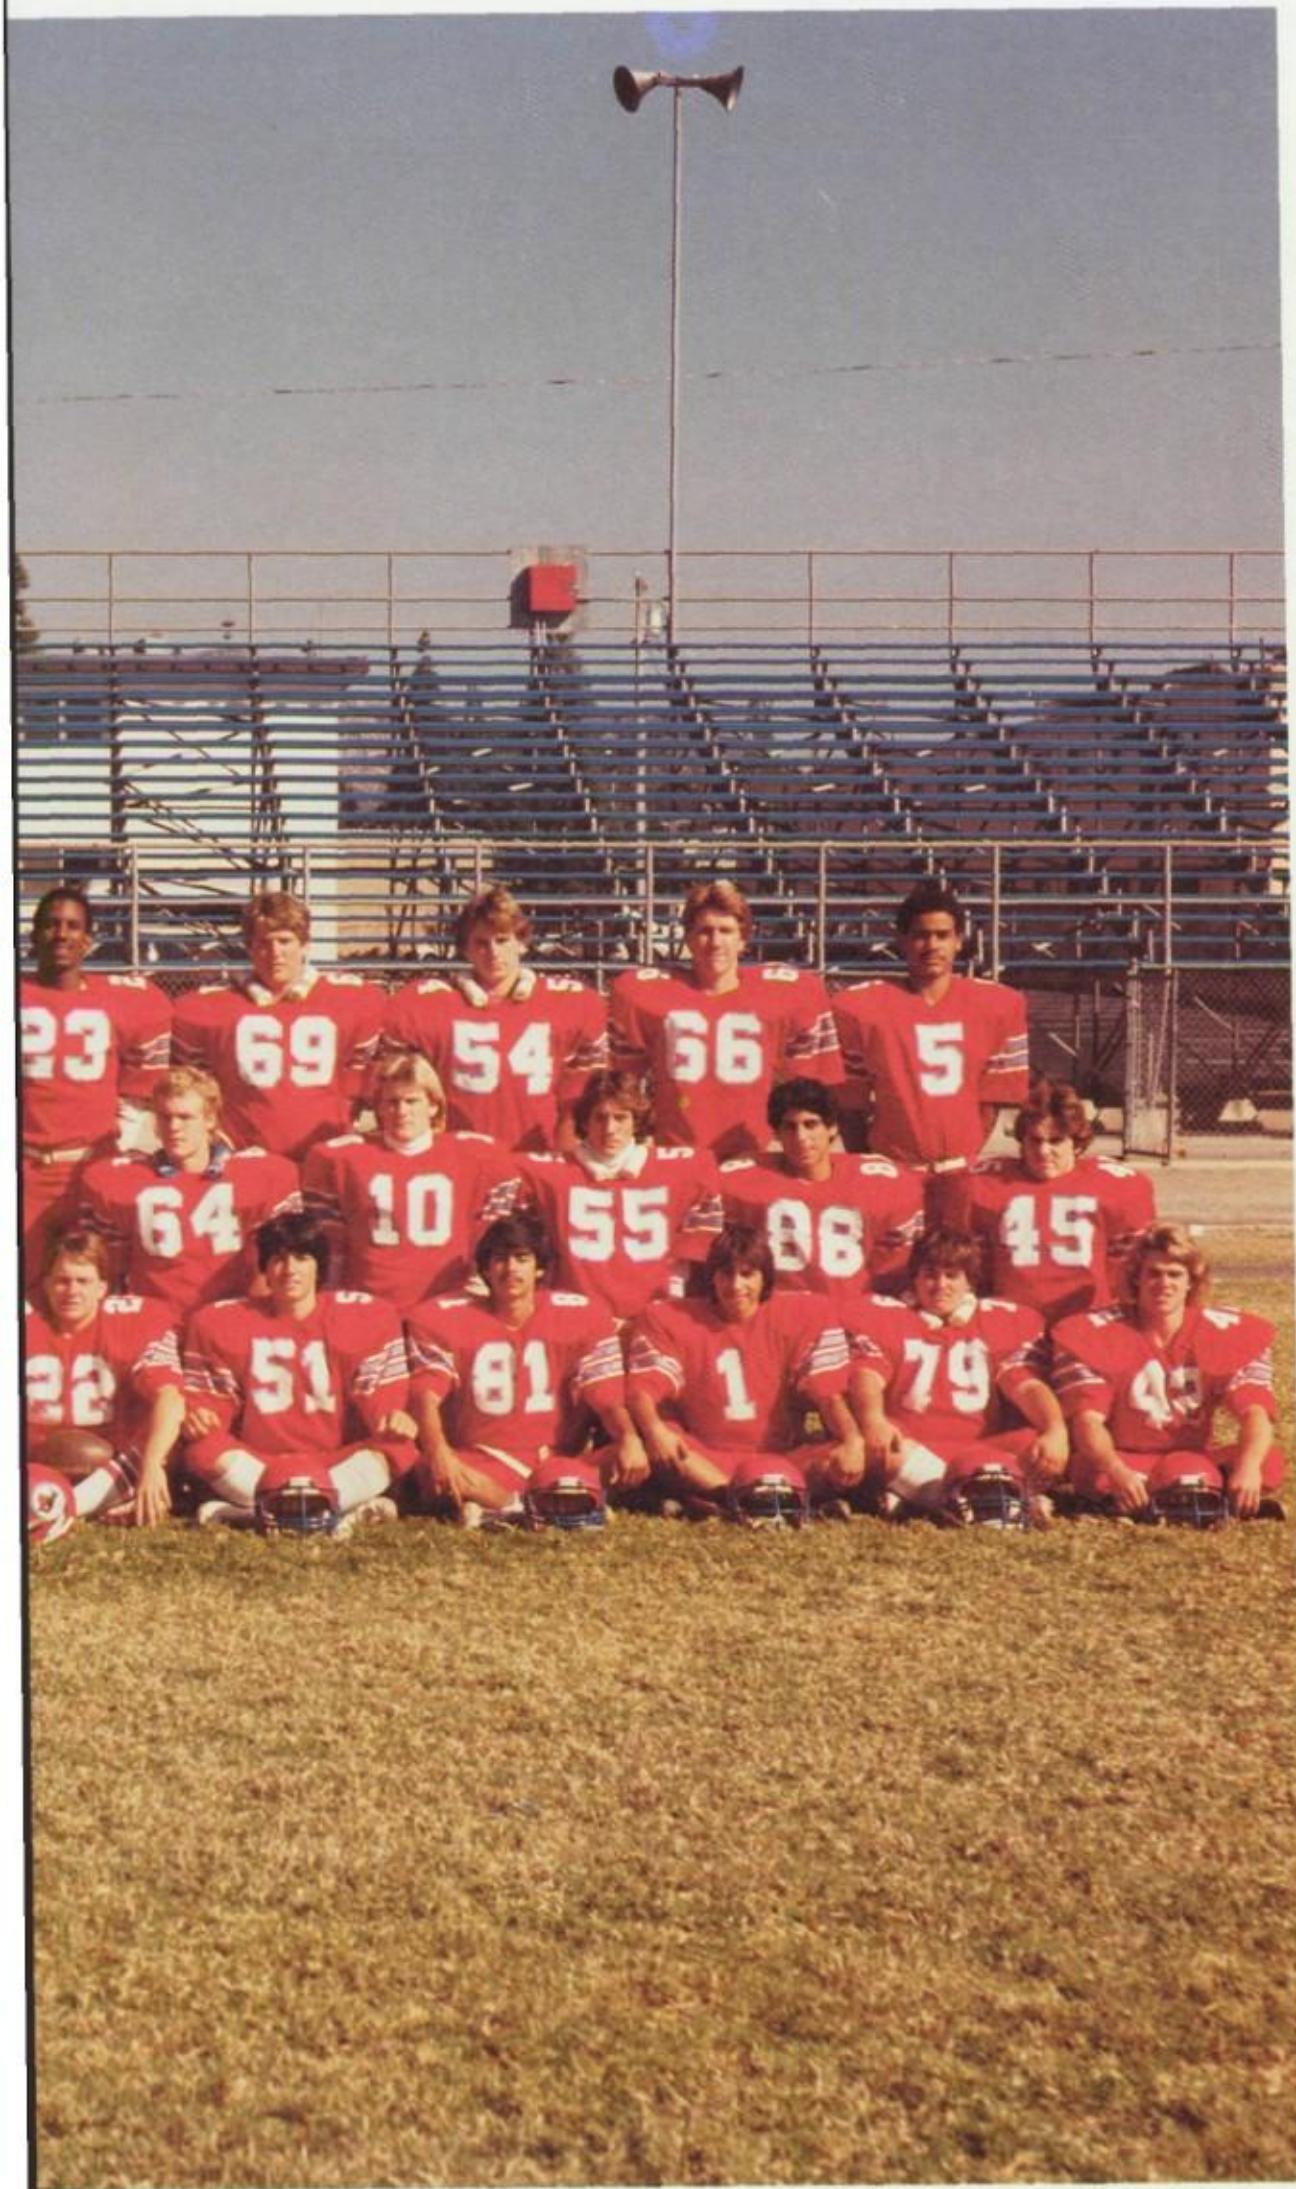

Though lacking in experience and size, El Cajon was able to perform impressively in the 1984 Football Carnival and throughout the year to produce many exciting and memorable moments. Though without an outstanding league record, El Cajon was still able to gain the respect of the league and their peers.

The Marching Unit of 1984, had another great season. The Band, Drill, and Tall Flags were well-respected in their division and placed first and second almost everywhere they went. The Band's fine sound was again directed by Robert Finnin and the Specialty Corps was directed by Rhonda Wilkes. The songs played in the field show were: an opener, "Samba De Orpheus," "My Favorite Things," an exciting standstill "Tiger Of San Pedro," and a crowd-stirring version of "Even Now." 1984 will be remembered as a great year for the Marching Unit, showing character, style, and pride in reaching the top of the pack.

Jamboree

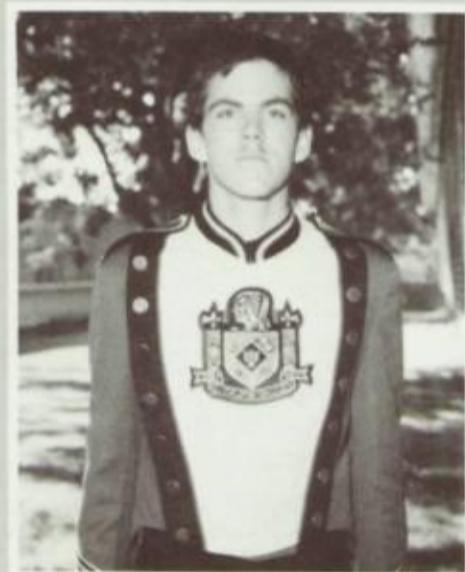

The 1984 edition of the annual Band Jamboree, held on Nov. 10 at Monte Vista Stadium, was another tremendous success for the El Cajon Valley Marching Unit. The field show, written by the renowned Bruce Jamikowski, received tremendous applause. Solos were played by Jeff Johnson on trumpet and Jon Martin on trombone. El Cajon was the first performing unit and left a lasting impression throughout the evening. The Marching Unit used this excellent opportunity to show their skill in marching and mastery of musicianship. The Band Jamboree marked the beginning of the great season that the Marching Unit experienced this year.

"Vanities

For 1985"

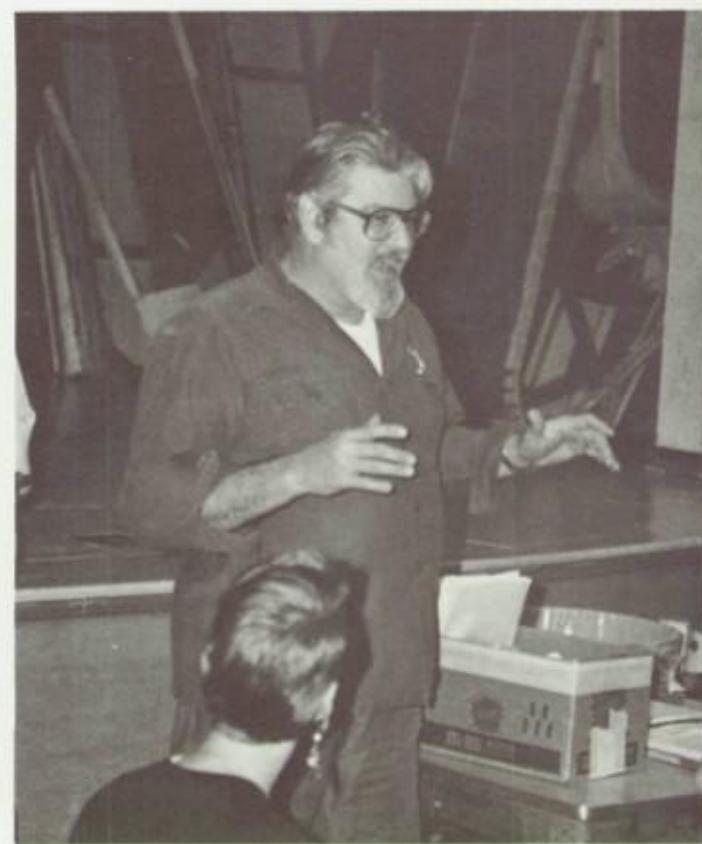

"Vanities for 1985", directed by Doc Roberts, represented the working in concert of three different disciplines within the Performing Arts Department, drama, chorus, and musical production workshop, ably assisted by the technical skills of the stagecraft classes. The show provided an opportunity to showcase the unique talents of the individual students within the department, as well as the combined effort of the entire company. In many cases it displayed the first performance attempts by the young actors and actresses. Overall the show was a success and is expected to become an annual event.

Over the past four years, the Administration, under the leadership of Principal Art Pegas, has provided direction for E.C.V.H.S. This year, the Administration was able to provide a greater percentage of the student body with six classes, encouraged gains in senior C.A.P. test scores, initiated a computerized attendance system, and established a new Math Computer Lab. As always, they influenced the enthusiasm, spirit, and hard work needed to be successful.

The school year of 1985 brought changes to the teaching staff of E.C.V.H.S. The enthusiastic new members, along with the dedicated returnees produced another year of teaching success and students who would make the school proud. New subjects such as German, Computer Studies and Career and Family Development were added to the curriculum. Classes that were dropped were Driver's Ed. and Health. The combined efforts of the faculty and the students once again brought academic recognition to E.C.V.H.S.

"So Long, Farewell

MR. JESS CASTRO

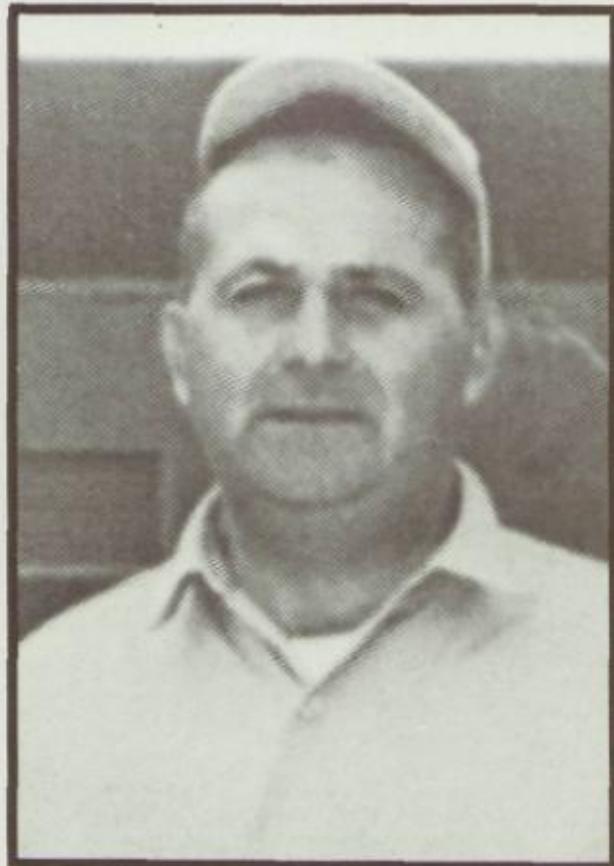

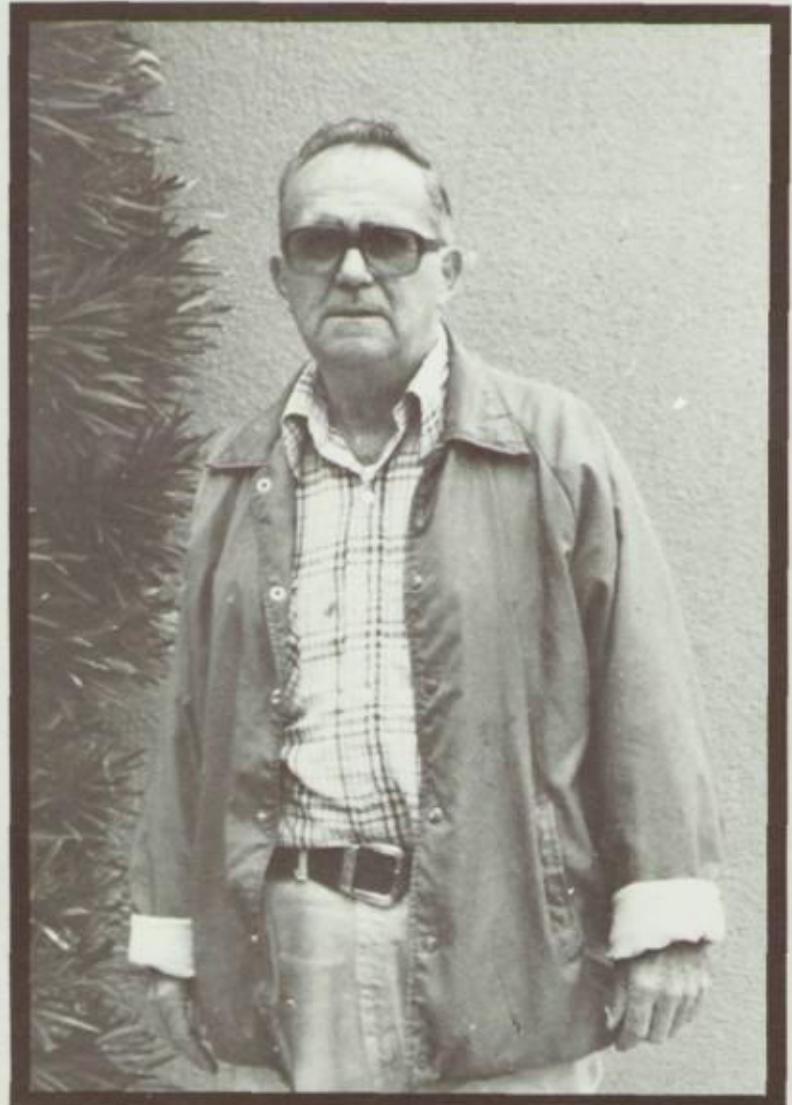

Mr. Castro has been an extraordinary counselor within the eyes of his students as well as his colleagues. He has given El Cajon the best counseling, coaching, and teaching we've ever received. Dedicating to El Cajon his best ability the past 33 years, he now feels he should slow down and spend more time pursuing other interests such as traveling. This summer he plans to travel to China and hopefully cover most of Asia. Mr. Castro will always remember El Cajon for its air of comfort and caring. The students today, he feels, are more able and have much more potential than they realize. His advice for students is to have a dream always, for this dream can always come true if it's strived at and dedicated to. El Cajon appreciates your dedication, Mr. Castro, and your friendliness shall be missed by us all.

MR. ART COYER

Often seen on campus, always helping students, Mr. Coyer has been a deeply appreciated member of El Cajon High School. His unselfishness as well as his caring attitude towards students has added to El Cajon a friendly atmosphere which we're all very proud of. He has provided El Cajon with over twenty years of excellence as our campus utility worker. El Cajon's campus and its bright atmosphere is very much due to Mr. Coyer's superb attendance. The students appreciate his care for without him our school would never be as proud and as appreciative of our fine facade. We all shall miss his dedication and wish him the brightest future for he has given us his best and the best is all that he deserves.

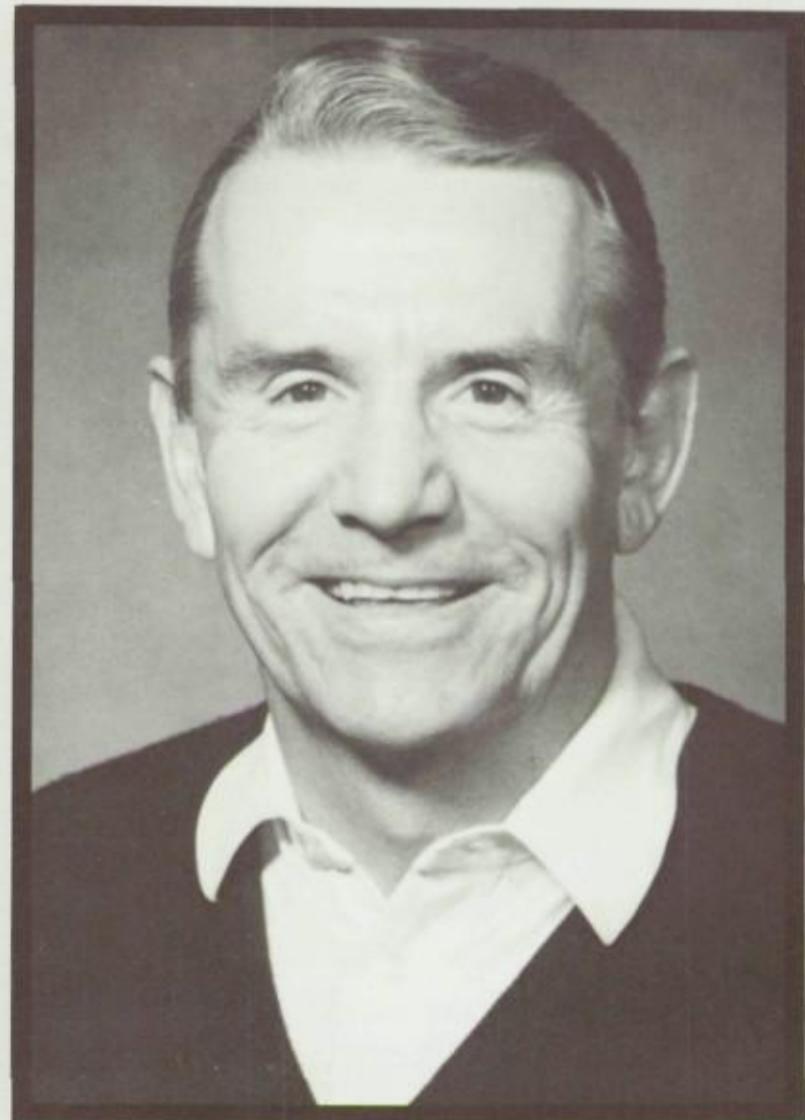

120

Auf Wiedersehen . . ."

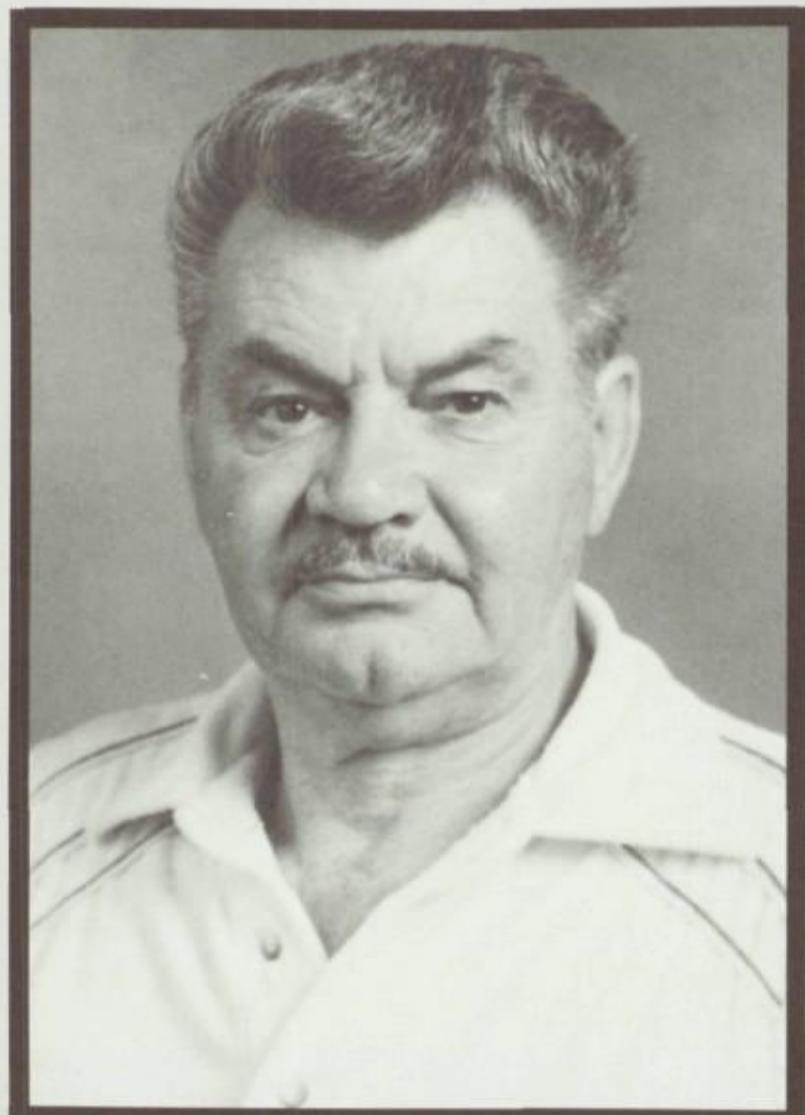

MR. ED FOSTER

One of our finest faculty members here at ECVHS, Mr. Foster has been in education for over 30 years. Besides being an excellent counselor he's also held other responsibilities such as Vice Principal at Monte Vista, El Cajon's head football coach which he proudly stated, took a championship. He now feels that his life is complete and he wishes to approach other fields of interest. Mr. Foster's future plans include travelling, possibly covering South America, and going back to school to learn Spanish. He has only the best memories of ECVHS, the friendliest school he has ever served, students and staff alike. His final advice to students is to try their best at everything, work to their best potential and success is inevitably theirs. El Cajon has been extremely fortunate to have had such a caring member in the staff, one who will be greatly missed.

MR. DAVE WILLIAMS

Known as one of the friendliest teachers around, Mr. Williams has been a dedicated faculty member to El Cajon since 1957. His love for science as well as his love for his students motivated him to dedicate extra time and effort helping students with abstract theories of science. He has encouraged students to self-motivate and learn new ideas by themselves for this process of comprehension is also self-beneficial. Mr. Williams is deeply loved by all his students for he understands and relates himself to them. Everyone will sadly miss him for his kindness and friendliness can never be replaced.

Education

One of the most meaningful and rewarding classes at E.C.V.H.S. is T.M.R., which deals with students who have learning and mental disabilities. It is here that these students are taught to be self-sufficient in our community. They are instructed in developing their language, physical education, independent living, and prevocational skills. Teaching in the T.M.R. facility is conducted by a superior and dedicated staff with the help of many student aides from the main campus.

The Brightest And The Best

Greg Marshall-English: With a mind that is quick and perceptive, Greg enjoys reading literature, philosophy and discussing the ideas therein. He is able to analyze the figurative language and the many levels of meaning found in classic literature in a writing style which is organized, precise and yet refreshing. Greg's spoken and written English is superior.

Greg Marshall, Vince Carbino-Social Science: Both Greg and Vince reflect the attitudes and performances of outstanding Social Science students: inquisitiveness, perception, excellent writing and discussion skills and willingness to work hard. Both have received important honors in the field of Social Science and are the two students who have most excelled in ECVHS Social Science classes.

Jon Martin-Performing Arts: Jon, throughout his four years at ECVHS has contributed a great deal to the Performing Arts Department. In addition to appearing in such productions as "Bye, Bye, Birdie" and "Once Upon a Mattress," his excellent leadership qualities in band have made him into one of the finest drum majors we've ever had.

Katie Fitzgerald-Business Education: Katie, since her freshman year, has been an asset to the Business Department. She has excelled in all of the nine business classes she has taken. Her attention to detail and ability to grasp key business concepts places her a step ahead of her classmates.

Ray Pennisi-Math: Ray has demonstrated his outstanding ability in mathematics here at ECVHS by taking as many math classes as offered to him. He is one of a small group of his peers who has been able to get through Calculus in four years of high school. Ray is the leader of the Math Team and a unanimous selection of the Math Department.

Wendi Honey-Foreign Language: Wendi is currently in her fifth year of a foreign language. Her strong background in Spanish will help her in our increasingly Spanish speaking country. Wendi has reached for a level of achievement where most students would not even try to attempt.

Students Who Excel

Shannon Berkshire-Science: Shannon, although only a sophomore, has distinguished herself as an outstanding Science student. Having taken first year biology she was the top student in her class.

Debbie Friemuth-Home Economics: Debbie has always been an enthusiastic, energetic student in the many economic classes she has taken. Assisting the teacher, she helps and encourages other students with their work. Debbie has been an efficient, valuable member of the Economics Department here at ECVHS.

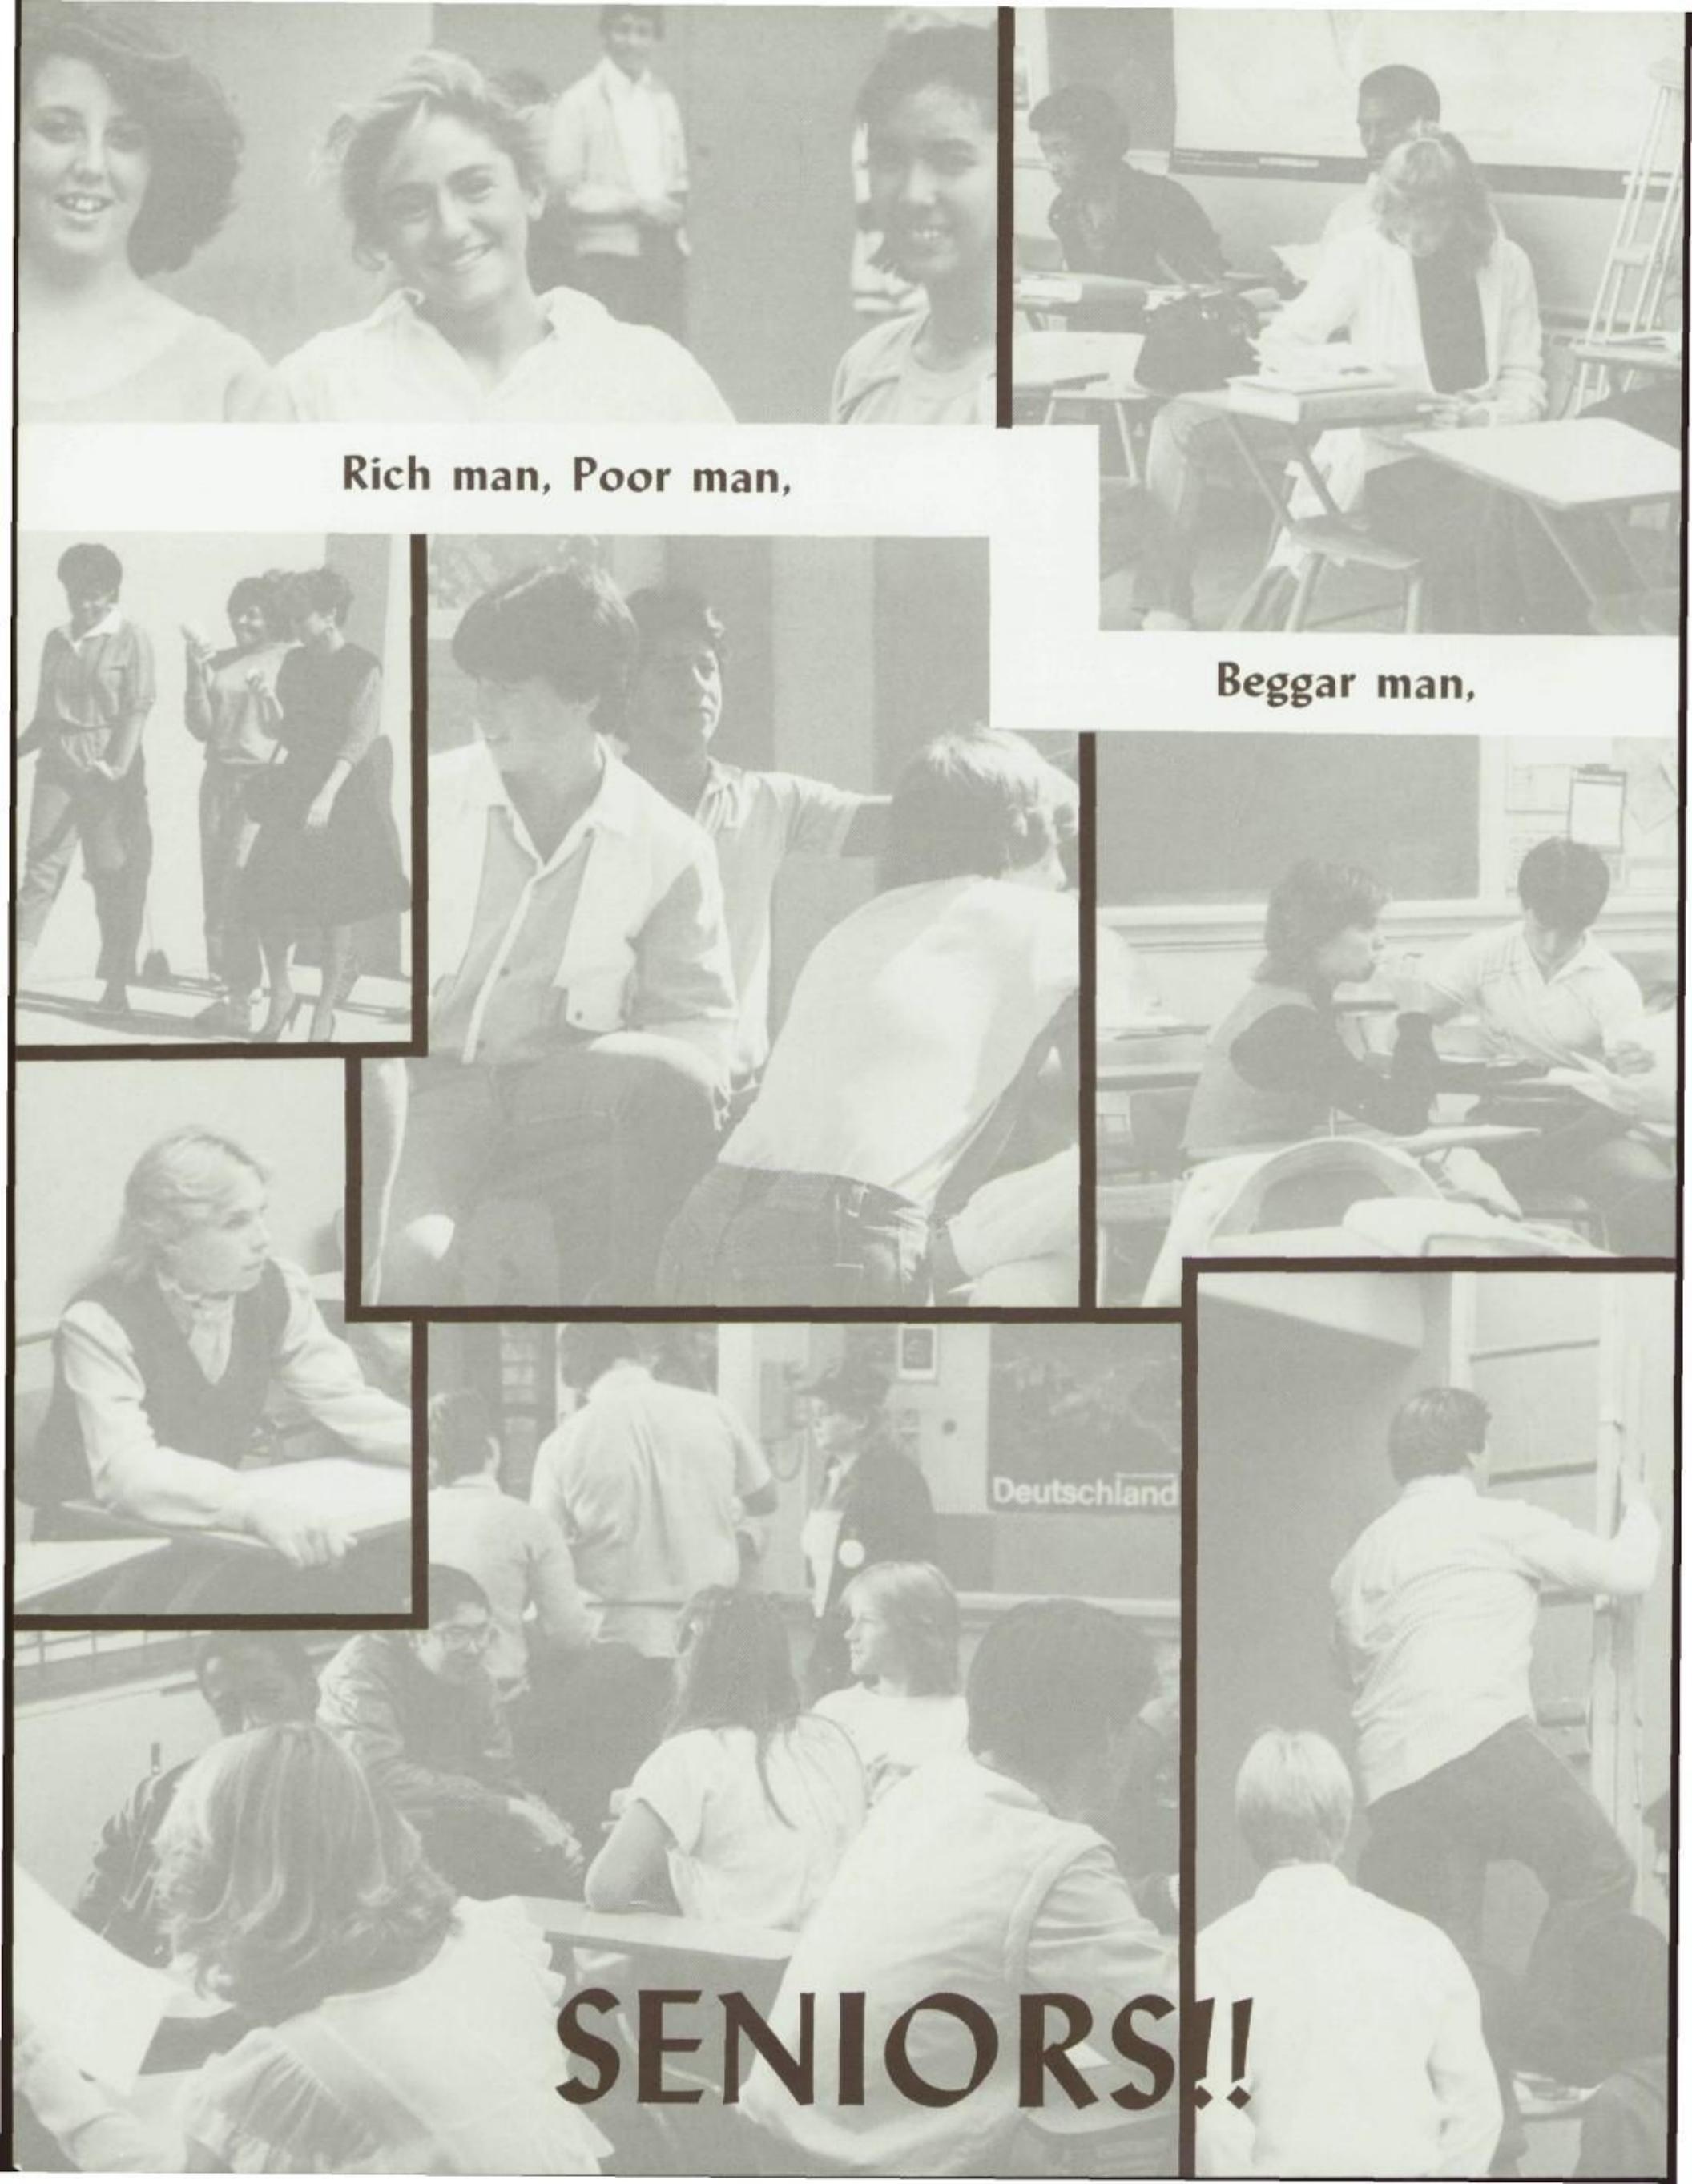

Ricardo Lopez-Art: Ricardo has taken two semesters of art here at ECVHS. His work is outstanding. Ricardo likes all types of pencil drawing, mainly cartooning, and does very well at realism. Starting to paint this semester, his work has been displayed in the hallway showcase. Ricardo hopes to continue with art and perfect his already proficient skills.

Michelle Hamilton-Girls' PE: Michelle has been an outstanding student in Physical Education throughout her four years at ECVHS. Michelle demonstrates a cooperative attitude and positive sportsmanship at all times, as well as being highly skilled in sports activities. Michelle is enthusiastic, friendly and highly respected by her classmates.

Mike Hayet-Industrial Arts: Mike has participated in all the Industrial Arts classes available at ECVHS. He is an outstanding worker with metals, wood, and auto skills. He is a hard worker and a pleasure for the teachers to have in class.

Robert M. Jones-Boys' PE: Robert has been an outstanding student in Physical Education during his four years at El Cajon Valley High School. He has a happy positive attitude, along with sportsmanship and fair play above reproach. Robert, in fact represents the epitome of what all physical Education students should be.

Senior Committees, this year consisted of a group of bright, fun, and spirited individuals. When work had to be done, they got down to business. Various fundraisers, some of which were car washes, carnation sales, and gift sales were put on throughout the year to raise money for the Senior Class. Without their constant hard work and dedication, the Prom, Baccalaureate, and other Senior activities could not have run smoothly or even been possible. The Committees worked together as a team to accomplish their tremendous job of making the Class of '85's last year at ECV the best one ever!

Mario Nicolaou, one of the two foreign exchange students from the Mediterranean area, is from the island of Cyprus. During Mario's stay in El Cajon he lived with the Johnson family and he attended such senior classes as physics and calculus. Mario's home is an island off the coasts of Turkey and Syria. Most of the people of Cyprus are either of Greek or Turkish ancestry and these are also the two official languages of Cyprus. Mario's friends will remember him, not only for all of the good memories but also for his teasing and sense of humor.

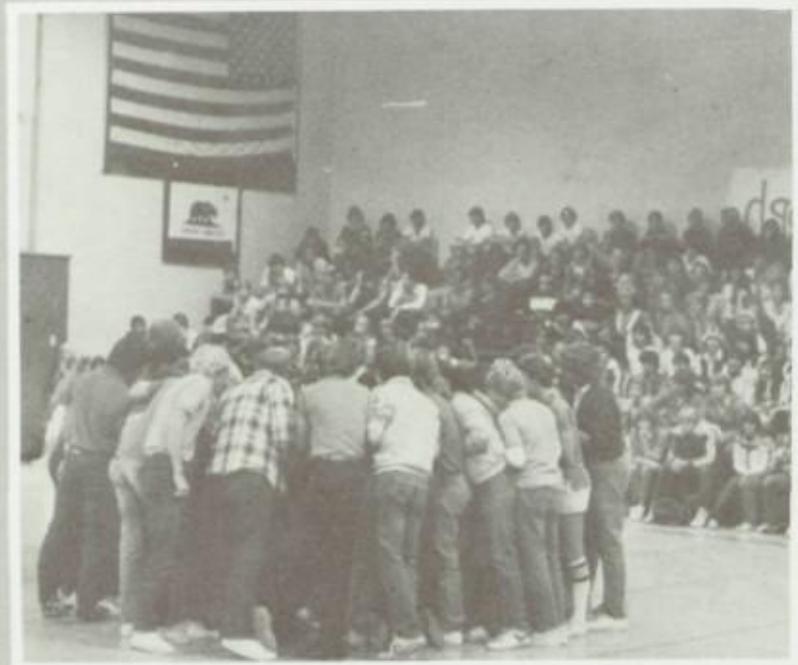

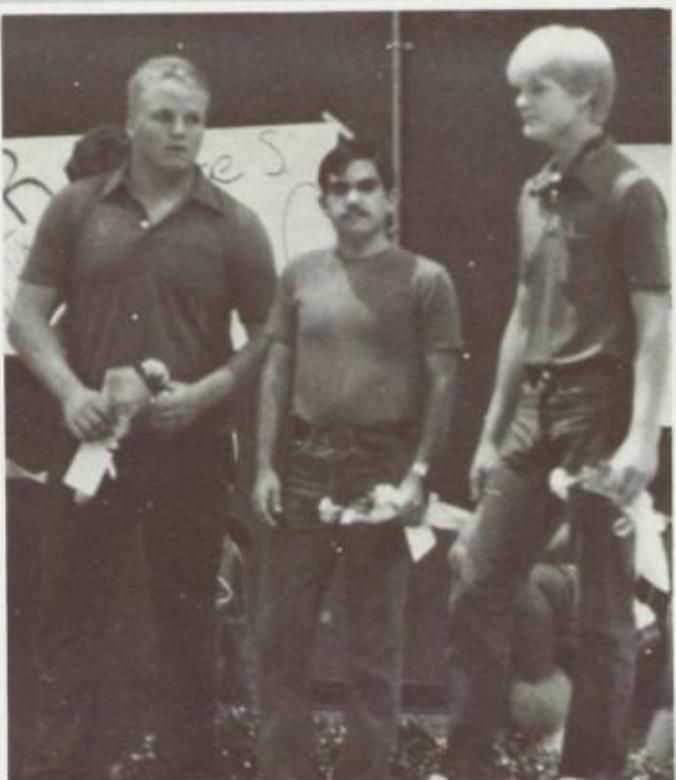

Far Away Lands

Also from the Mediterranean area, is Marina Marini from Milan Italy. Marina spent her year in El Cajon with the McGraff family and was involved in the I-Club along with her full day of classes. Marina's home is the second largest city in Italy, after Rome. It is Italy's leading financial and manufacturing center and is one of the major fashion capitals of the world. Marina shared her country's culture with us and now after her year in the U.S. she can go back to Italy and share with her friends there what she learned here.

Assemblies Of 84

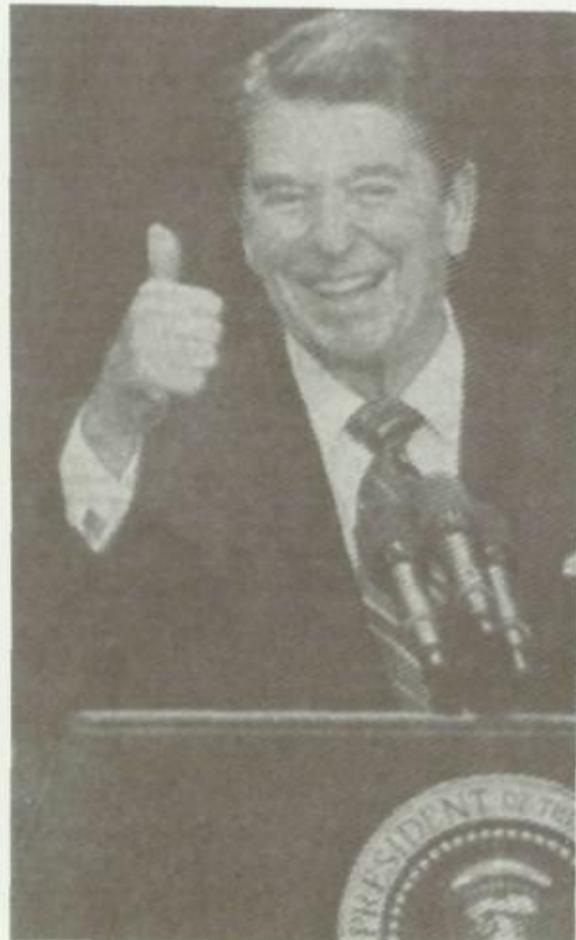

85 Come Alive

Assemblies came alive this year in the E.C.V.H.S. gym. Students performed and showed their talents in front of friends and faculty. The assemblies also featured sports such as Football, Field Hockey and Volleyball. The Student Body showed their spirit and pride in crowd involvement cheers and chants. Assemblies introduced new activities and united the pride and spirit of the school into one.

Editors,

Quy P. N g u y e n

"Well, Quy, our final year here at El Cajon has passed us by."

"It's hard to believe, that we've spent four years of our lives in these halls."

"Yes, this school has become a part of each and every one of us, a part that will remain with us forever."

"It seems as if everything just happened yesterday. But you know, Deirdre, these memories are going to stay with us forever, because here was where we spent some of our best times with our best of friends. We've shared our past, present, and future dreams with these friends that we have acquired."

"Do you still remember the first day of our freshman year? How we looked up to everyone and admired those "Big Seniors"? Well, we're the big seniors now. We were so nervous then, that was four years ago, and everything is still so clear in my mind."

"Deirdre, do you realize that when we walk under those arches on graduation we'll really think and treasure all the times at El Cajon?"

"Yeah, and what seems as an end to our education will really be a brand new beginning, because it's time that we really face reality, the real world. El Cajon has provided us a firm foundation to face the challenges that life will offer. Then and only then will we be able to recognize how much knowledge we've gained here."

"This knowledge will help us face the real world we've heard so much about but never experienced. Well, now we're eager and ready to enter this world and we have the vital knowledge that will help us succeed. This knowledge achieved here at El Cajon is more than education but experience as well. With it we needn't be inferior to anyone because El Cajon has prepared us well for reality."

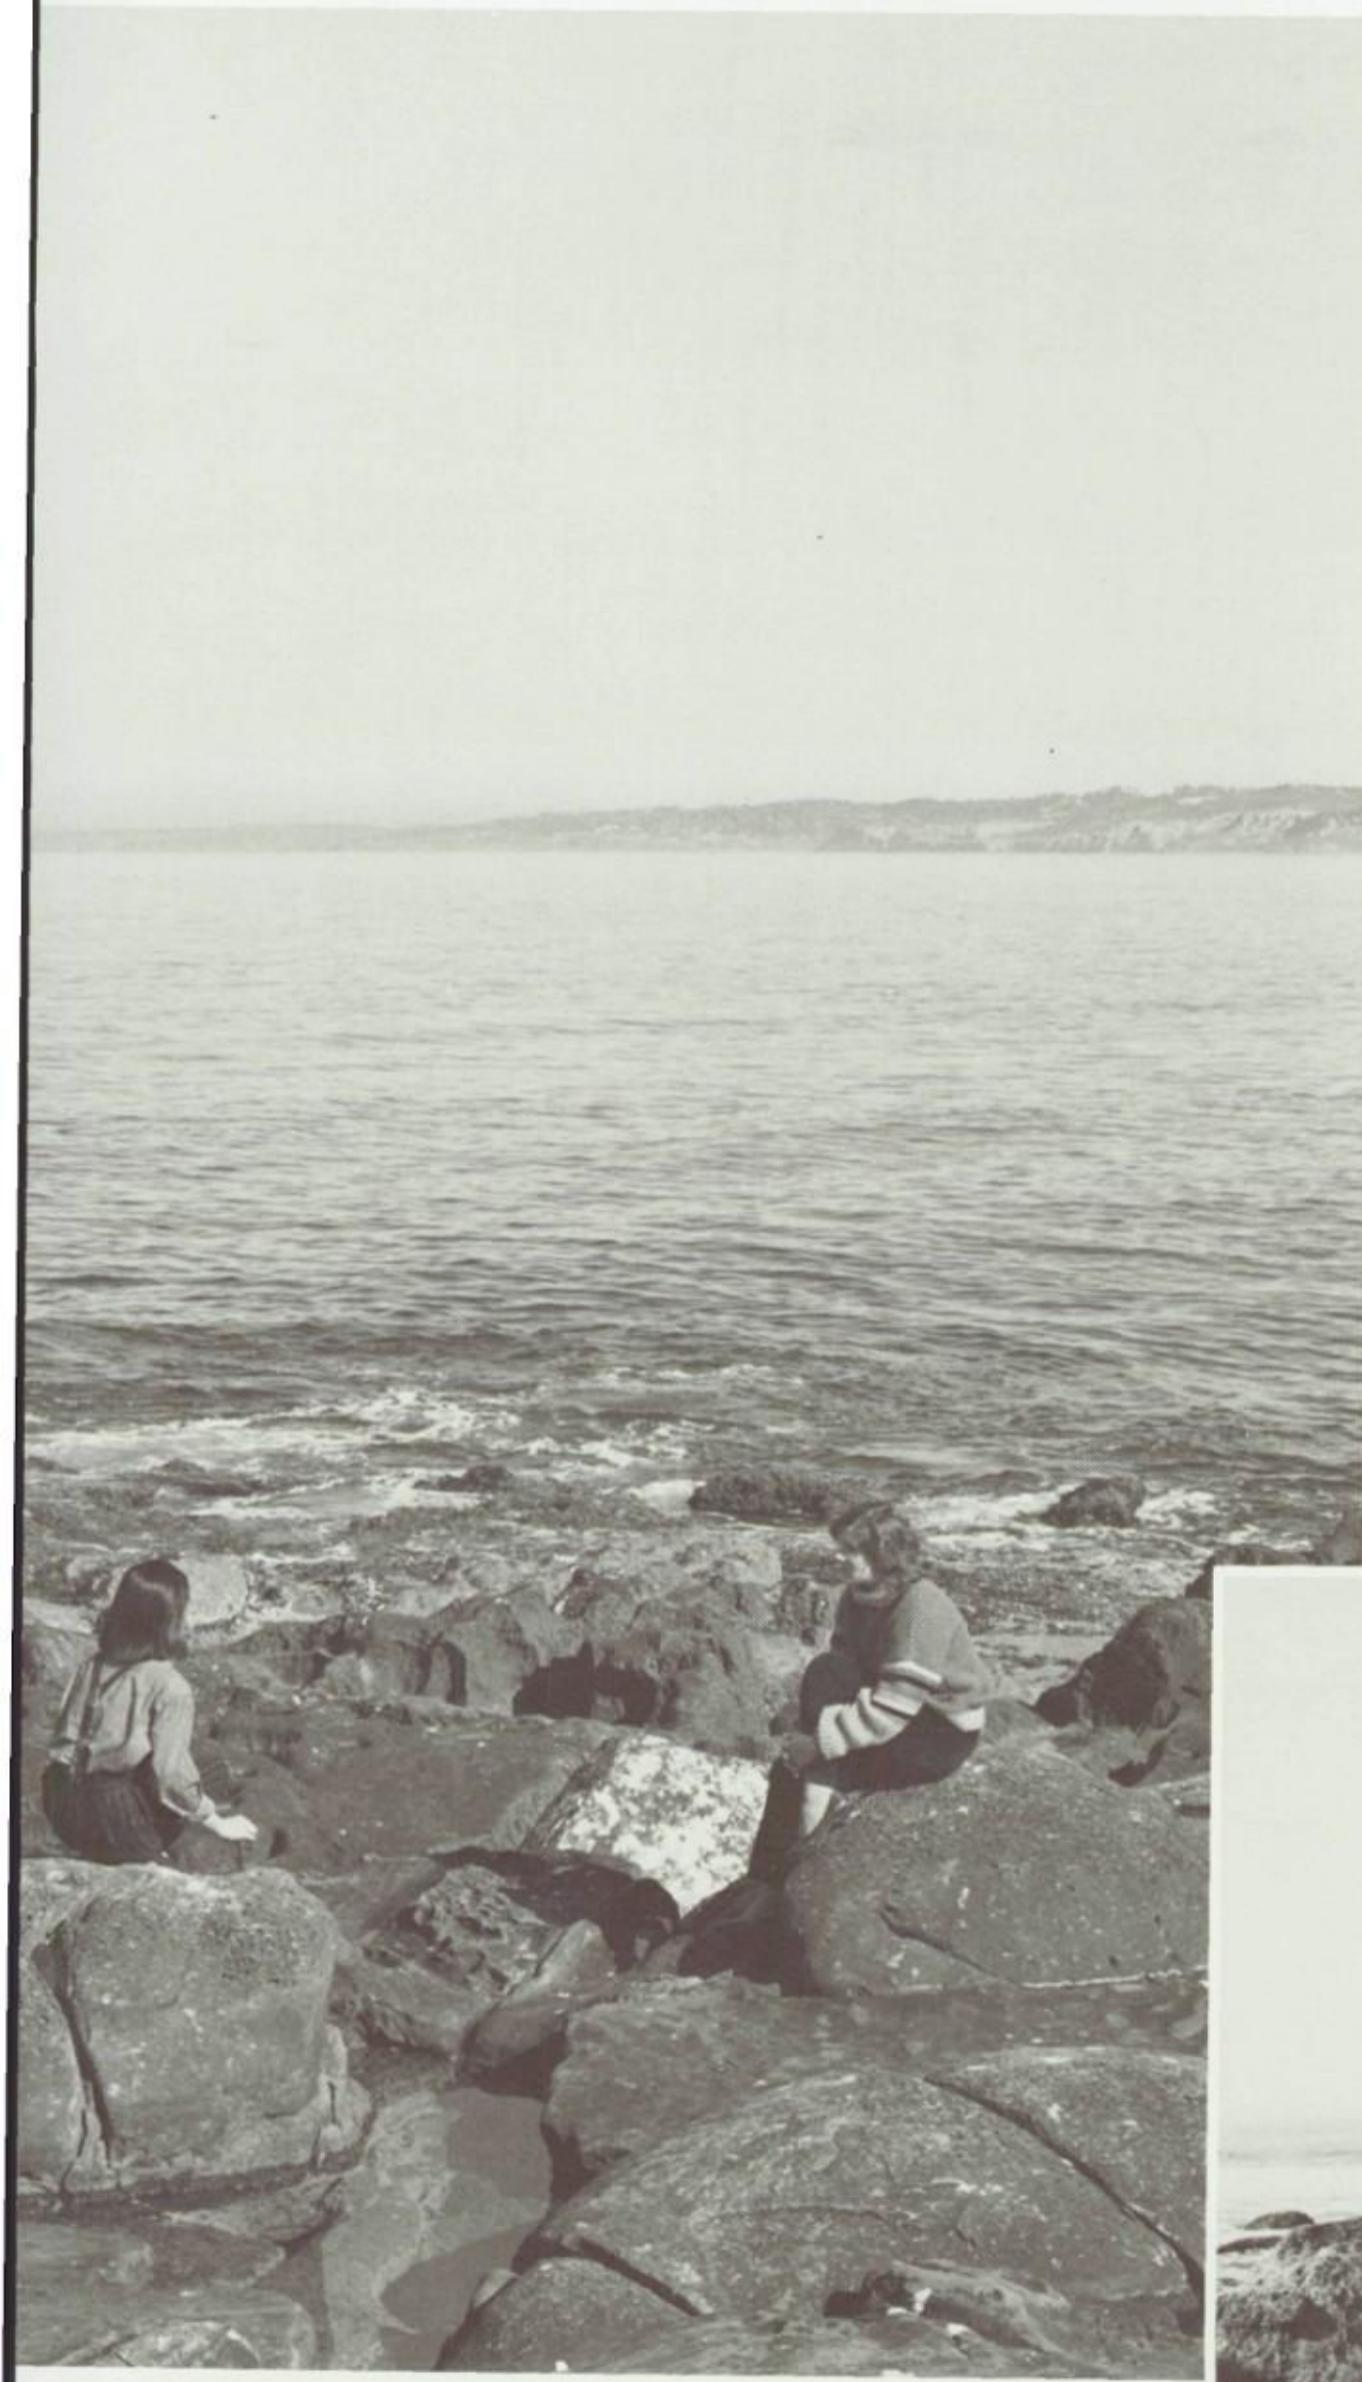

"Just think, this time next year we'll be in college and we can look back and see how much we've accomplished with everyone's help. Our families, teachers, and friends have formed us into what we are today."

"Upon graduation we won't have any comfort of high school. Then will be a time when we begin to form our future based on our drive and motivation."

"It's a long and winding road that awaits us full of challenges, success, and also failures but here comes the sun we shall greet it with great determination."
